WASHINGTON CITY: FR IDAY APRIL 21, 1565.

The Remains of President Lincoln.

THE DEPARTURE OF THE SPECIAL TRAIN FOR SPRINGFILLD. Yesterday the throng of persons visiting the remains of the late President, as they laid in state in the Capitol, continued until dark, at which time the doors were closed and the guard for the night, consisting of the Capitel Police, Capt. Newman, and a detail from the 12th Veteran Reserves, set. The number of visitors is estimated at about forty thousand, and but for the inclement weather the number would have been probably twice as many. The coffin was covered with a profusion of natural flowers, from the hand of affection. The catafalco (which was mostly trimmed by Mr. G. L. Kirby, of the Capitol Police,) was surrounded by a platform, which the crowd ascended, passing to the head of the coffin, and thence to the west door of the rotunda, and cut of the building.

The following officers were in charge of the remains, and Gen. M. C. Meigs was present during a portion of the day:—Lieut. Com'r Edward E. Stone, of the monitor Montauk; Lieut. Com'r A. Ward Weaver, monitor Ma-Lieut. N. H. Farquhar, U. S. steamer Santiago de Cuba; Lieut. A. R. McNair, of Admiral Farragut's staff; Lieut. E. M. Shepherd, U. S. monitor Mahopac, on the part of the Navy. Brig. Gen. J. P. Slough and Capt. R. C. Gale, A. A. G., and Dr. F. M. Mead, chief surgeon of his staff; Brevet Brig. Gen. Gamble, Capts. A. J. Wickersham, A. A. G.; T. C. Brown, A. A. I. G.; G. C. Laurence, A. Q. M.; Lieuts C. F. Moore, H. A. Moore, H. A. Pearsons and George Gamble, of his staff.

The Removal of the Remains to the Rail. About six o'clock this morning, the monitor's of the Cabinet, the Inimois delegations, the pall bearers, and several officers of the army with Senators, assembled in the rotunda, and after taking a farewell look at the corpse it was removed to a hearse by the same sergeants who carried the corpse on Wednesday and under a guard of honor, composed of the companies of Captains Cromee, Bush, Hille-brand and Dillon, of the 12th V. R. C., under the command of Lieut. Col. Bell, the remains were taken to the depot, the Cabinet and others following.

The remains of little Willie Lincoln, who died in February, 1862, and were placed in a vault at Oak Hill Cemetery, were removed to the depot about the same time, and placed in the same car with the remains of his lamented father. The body was embalmed at the time by Drs Brown and Alexander, and placed in a metallic burial case; but yesterday the case was placed in a handsome black walnut coffin, silver mounted. The silver plate on the bust of the burial case is inscribed WILLIAM WALLACE LINCOLN, "Born December 21st, 1850;

"Died February 20th, 1862." The remains of father and son were placed on the car next to the rear, one which was built for the U.S. Military Railroad, originally for the President and other dignitaries. It contains a parlor, sitting room and sleeping apart. ment. Yesterday it was put in mourning by Mr. John Alexander, the windows being hung with black curtains and the entire furniture robed in black. Along the top, outside, is a row of mourning gathered to black and white rosettes, and another similar row extends around the car below the windows. This car is in charge of Mr. John McNaughton, U. S. M. R. R. A plain stand, covered with black cloth, was placed in the south end of the car, on which the remains of the President were placed, and on a like stand at the opposite end the remains of little Willie rested. The Scene at the Depot.

The military, as soon as the remains had passed them, formed in line in front of the building, and a strong guard was placed at all approaches, no person being allowed but officers of the army and navy, the delegations going with the trains, and the passengers for the Philadelphia train, leaving at 7.30. At the back of the Depot, Capt. Camp, of Soldiers' Rest, posted a guard and kept the crowd back, a large number of persons having gathered. There were quite a number of officials present as the train was being made ready, among whom were Secretaries Stanton, Usher, Welles, McCulloch, and Postmaster General Dennison, Atterney General Speed, Lieut. General Grant, Generals Hunter, Hardee, Barnard, Rucker, Townsend, Ekin, Eaton, Howe, Hall, McCollum, Capt. Camp, of Soldiers' Rest, and others of the army; Admiral C. H. Davis, of the Burean of Navigation; Capt. W. R. Taylor, and Major Field, of the Marine Corps.

As the time for the departure of the train drew near, the parties holding tickets took their places in the train, among them Gens. Barnard, Ekin, Townsend, Hunter and Howe, Tha the three haval officers named above, as also Gen. McCallum, superintendent of the U. S. military railroads, who superintended the whole arrangements; President Garrett, of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad: Col. Lamon, U. S. Marshal of the District; Messrs Edwards and Smith, two relatives of Mr. Lincoln; T. F. Pendle, the principal doorkeeper at the White House, and H. C. Smith, the special policeman at the Executive Mansion; a detail of twentyone first sergeants of the 7th, 10th, 9th, 12th, 14th, 18th and 24th regiments Veteran Reserves, under charge of Capt. J. M. McCamley, of the 9th; Lieuts. J. R. Durkee, 7th; E. Hoppy, 12th; E. Murphy, 10th; three gentlemen of the press-Messrs. Gobright of the Associated Press, who will be joined at Philadelphia by Mr. Corbett: U. H. Painter, of the Philadelphia Inquirer, Mr. Page of the New York Tribune, and Dr. Adonis, of the Chicago Tribune.

The Railroad Station. The station, which, since the death of the President has wern mourning on the outside, was elaborately draped inside this morning, the work having been done yesterday under the direction of Mr. George S. Koontz, the General Agent of the road; now every window and doors frame being draped and heavy festoons falling from the cornice of the main saloon, and a large flag covered with crape hanging over the door leading to the platform. Over the gate to the platform a large arch covered with mourning was sprung, and the railing running the entire length of the plat-

The Train. The train in which were the remains and those accompanying them, was composed of eight cars, six of them being the beautiful double-deckers of the Baltimore and Ohio Road, one the car from the Military Railroad, above described, and the last the one intended for the family and the Congressional Committee, sent here yesterday by the Superintendent of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Road. This car contains a parlor, chamber, dining-room and kitchen, and is elaborately furnished. The train was put together by Mr. John Collins, dispatcher of trains, while Mr. Koontz, the general, and Mr. Walker, the passenger agent, saw that the passengers were properly seated. The train was under the immediate charge of Capt. J. P. Dukehart, one of the most popular conductors, who goes through with the remains to Springfield, as special aid to Gen. McCallum.

The Pilot Engine. The engine to go before the train as the pilot was No. 239, of which Wm. Galloway is the engineer and James Brown fireman. It was heavily draped in mourning, all the brass being covered, while in front there were two large flags fringed with mourning and four smaller ones on the engine. The tender was also heavily draped. At precisely ten minutes to eight o'clock, after directions had been given by Major General Meigs and General McCollum, the engine started. The Departure of the Train. Shortly after the pilot engine started all who were to accompany the remains took their places in the cars, and at eight o'clock the signal was given, when the bell on the engine attached to the train, No 238, which was dressed as the pilet engine, slowly tolled, the bells on some of the other engines tolling simultaneously, and slowly the train moved from the station, the members of the Cabinet and others who were on the platform, as well as the crowd gathered in the rear of the depot, outside of the line of sentries, standing uncovered until the train passed out of view, when all returned through the station. The engineer in charge of No. 238 was Thos. Beckett, whose fireman is C. A. Miller, and on the engine was Mr. John R. Smith, supervisor of engines of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

THE ASSASSINATION PLOT. Attempt to Get Through the Lines.

A Mysterious Suicide.

On Wednesday night a man who made seyeral attempts at different points to pass the outer line of pickets around the city, was placed in the guard room at Fort Thayer for examination, and there deliberately committed suicide by cutting the jugular vein on each side of the neck with a penknife. He was about 5 feet 10 inches high, light curly hair and beard, small feet and delicate hands, was evidently educated, had on a new fine officer's fatigue coat, grey pants and vest, new underclothing, in double, and fine calf boots. On him was found three hundred and twenty dollars, a penknife, two conflicting army discharges of the same date for George B. Love, a receipt from H. Stockbridge, of Baltimore, for two hundred and fifty dollars from George B Love for legal services, and a watch and

The evidence seems to indicate that he was concerned in the assassination plot.

"THE MURDERER STILL AT LARGE." Such is the heading of the stirring appeal of the Secretary of War to the people of the country. It is a matter of surprise that rewards have not been offered in every State, city and town in the land to swell the amount bid for the apprehension of the assassin of Mr-Lincoln. Put a million of dollars on the head of the criminal, and earth has not a hiding place that would sourcest him. His associates are men of desperate purposes, and like most men of that stamp are of produgal habits requiring profuse supplies of money. To such men such a reward would be irresistible. . The sum of money named would also enlist the detective force of the world in the work of hunting down the criminal.

Let him be caught and die an ignominious death, and the business of assassination will be held hereafter somewhat cueaply; but give it the succes so irresistible to badly-trained young men of the Jack Sheppard school, of a successful escape in defiance of a whole nation in pursuit, and we may have other aspirants for his bad eminence.

Our country cannot afford to let this man es_ cape. It has been our boast that a President of the Republic needed not a single bayonet for his protection. Is that proud distinction amongst the powers of the earth to be ours no

Let every State, city, town and hamlet in the country contribute to swell the aggregate reward for the assassin.

THE LATE TRAGEDY. Atzerot an Accomplice of Booth Arrested -His Arrival in this City-He is Lodged in a safe Place. Atzerot, the accomplice of Booth, has been captured.

He was taken about 7 o'clock yesterday morning, at the residence of his uncle, near a village called Germantown, in the upper end of Montgomery county, Maryland, by a company of cavalry under command of Captain Townsend, and brought to the Relay House, which point was reached about 7 o'clock last evening A cousin of Atzerot's was also taken into custody. Atzerot is represented as cool and collected, reticent, and, when questioned, responded only with a laugh.

At the time of his arrest he was in bed. P. S.-Atzerot arrived here last night about half-past nine o'clock, in a special train, and in double irons. He was placed in a safe place, the location of which, for prudential reasons, we withhold.

At 10.25 last night the train brought George Andreas Atzerot and Ernst Hartmann Richter, arrested about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, at Richter's farm, near Middleburgh P. O., Montgomery county, Maryland. They were received at the depot by Colonel T. Ingraham and Capt. William N. Wermerskirch, and taken to a safe place. Richter stated that Atzerot, who was his cousin, slept on the 14th instant at the Pennsylvania. House, formerly instant at the Pennsylvania House, formerly the Kimmel House, in C street; that he left Washington on Saturday and went to Rockville by stage, there hired a buggy, drove to Gettysburg, and then rode on a farmer's wagon to Kloppersville, where he arrived late at night, and remained till next morning; thence he walked to Richter's farm. Atzerot is twenty-eight years old, five feet five inches in height, has a swarthy complexion, and dark hair, moustache, and imperial. He seems to be shrewd, and was very reserved in his answers. Richter said that he had not seen him for about three months until he came to his farm on Sunday last.

THE CAPTURE OF ATZEROT. George A. Atzerot, sometimes known as Port Tobacco," and one of Booth's accomplices, who was arrested yesterday at Germantown, Montgomery county, Md., by Capt. Townsend's company of the 1st Delaware cavalry, arrived here last night in a special car attached to the regular 10 o'clock train. The authorities here having been informed by telegraph of the arrest of Atzerot, Colonel Ingraham, Colonel Luddington, and Marshal Murray, of New York, with a strong military force, were in attendance at the railroad station, and immediately upon the arrival of the train a guard was placed at every door of the passenger cars to prevent the passengers from leaving the cars until the prisoner had been removed to a place of safety. This precaution was taken to avoid any tumult by the fact of his arrival being divulged.

Atzerott was then taken quietly from the train and placed in an empious, Which had been seized by the military authorities, for the purpose, and rapidly driven to a safe place of confinement.

As soon as the passengers were allowed to leave the train, and it became known that the prisoner had arrived here, the news spread rapidly, and in a very short time an immense crowd of persons had assembled at Col. Ingraham's office in anticipation that he would be brought there, but in this they were disap-

While on the way, Atzerott maintained a sullen silence, and endeavored to assume an air of indifference. He was well dressed, and appears to have made no efforts to conceal his identity. He has a thoroughly bad face and repulsive manners.

THE OPERATIONS OF THE NAVY BEFORE MOBILE. Capture of Forts and the River Cleared of Obstructions.

H. K. Thatcher, commanding the West Gulf Squadron, has forwarded to the Navy Department a detailed report of the operations of the navy before Mobile. Com. Thatcher, in Lis dispatch, which is dated U.S. flagship Stockdale, of Mobile, April 12, says:

"Subsequent to the capture of Fort Alexis and Spanish Fort, detailed in my dispatch No. 53, dated April the 9th, the Octorora, Lieut, Com. W. W. Low, and the iron clads were enabled, in consequence of the thorough drag-ging of the Blakely river, through the indefatigable and intelligent exertions of Commander Pierce Crosby, to move up the river nearly abreast of Spanish Fort, from which point Lt. Com. Low, with his rifled guns, shelled with great precision Forts Huger and Gracy, and with such effect that both these forts were evacuated on the evening of the 11th, and our forces took possession, capturing a few prisoners in the adjoining marsh. These forts I shall hold until General Canby can garrison them with troops.

"This morning I moved with the gunboats convoying eight thousand men of General Granger's force to the west side of Mobile bay, for the purpose of attacking Mobile. "On our arrival, it was soon ascertained that the enemy had evacuated all their defences and retreated with their gunboats up the Alabama river. The gunboats will in a few days un-the rebels themselves.

"General Granger and myself have just sent into Mobile a formal demand to the Mayor for its unconditional surrender, which will undoubtedly be accorded, as the city is now at our mercy. The navy has already hoisted the stars and stripes over the walls of Fort Pinto and Spanish River Battery.

questionably be captured, unless destroyed by

"We also have entire possession of Choctaw Point Battery, and three heavy forts below it within Gunow's Bend. "I shall place a sufficient number of gun-boats directly in front of the city to give effici-cient protection to the loyal inhabitants, of which I learn there are a great number. Gen. Canby, with the forces under his immediate command, is at present in Blakely, though I have constant telegraphic communication with

CHANGES OF COMMAND. Major General Halleck left this city last evening for Richmond, it is stated, to relieve Major General Ord, and assume command of the Department of Virginia; headquarters at Richmond. Major General Ord is to relieve Major Gen eral Gillmere, in command of the Department of the South; headquarters at Charles. Major General Gillmore is ordered to report in person to the Adjutant General of the Army for orders. Brigadier General Dent, late of Lieutenant General Grant's staff, has been assigned to duty as Military Governor of Richmond, relieving General Shepley.

SECRETARY SEWARD AND SON. We learn from Dr. Verdi that Secretary Seward passed a comfortable night, in consequence of which he is much better this morning. Mr. Frederick Seward also passed a quiet night, but he has gained very little in the last forty. eight hours. His case is one that gives much anxiety to his physicians and to his family. Elsewhere will be found the proceedings of a meeting, and action of its committee in relation to the appointment of marshals for the funeral of the late President, obnoxious to the charge of disloyalty. Whether blame may be due in the premises we are quite sure that neither Marshal Lamon or his Deputy Marshal Phillips, have erred knowingly in the It will be seen that Mr. Phillips has promptly tendered his resignation, and we learn on good authority that Marshal Lamon will, on his return from Springfield, also tender his resignation. SALES OF 7-30's.-The sales of 7-30's by Jay

LATE FROM RICHMOND. From Captain Talbert, of the mail boat City

Point, (which did not arrive until about two o'clock, having been detained by the fog,) we have yesterday's Richmond Whig, from which we glean the following:

"There has been no public expression of grief by the citizens of Richmond at the calamity which has convulsed the nation, because it s the desire of the military authorities that there shall be no assemblage of the people in this city for the present. We know that several prominent citizens proposed to convene a public meeting, at which resolutions could be public meeting, at which resolutions could be adopted expressive of this community's abhorrence of the terrible crime, of profound regret at the death of the President, and of sympathy for his bereaved family. We believe that the meeting would have been largely attended, and the resolutions unanimously adopted, but in the present transition state of the community it was perhaps best that the meeting did rottake place. We have heard expressions on all sides condemning and deploring the awful deed in unmeasured terms. deed in unmeasured terms.

"THE MINING OF THE LIBBY PRISON.-An investigation of the basement of the Libby Prison since its occupation by the Federal military authorities, revealed the fact that the powder magazine planted there for the purpose of blowing up the prison in the event of the capture of Richmond by Dahlgren, had been removed sometime subsequently. The excavation is very plainly to be seen.

FROM THE COUNTRY BETWEEN RICHMOND AND STAUNTON.—From a gentleman who reached the city Wednesday, we learn that there is perfect quiet in all the country between Staunton and Richmond. Gordonsville was evacuated simultaneously with Richmond, the wounded and such of the property as could be got away being removed to Lynchburg, there to fall into the hands of

Gen. Grant's troops. "THE FUNERAL of Abraham Lincoln, late President of the United States, which took place in Washington yesterday, was recognized in Richmond by the suspension of all Government labor not absolutely necessary, the placing of all the flags at half mast throughout the city and upon the shipping. At noon twenty-one minute guns were fired by the war vessels in the harbor; and the roar of the guns as they reverberated through the city awoke in the minds of all the realization of the solemn event that was transpiring at the capital

"No PASSAGE FOR PAROLED PRISONERS .-By order of General Patrick, Provost Marshal General, no passports to go North will be given, at present, to paroled officers or soldiers of the Confederate army. We are not officially informed of the causes that prompted this restriction, but we are satisfied that the order is a judicious one, in view of the present state of affairs in the Northern States, growing out of the assassination of President Lincoln."

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC Captured Rebel Flags Turned Over to Gen. Meade, who Addresses the Captors-News of the Murder of President Lincoln in the

[Correspondence of the Associated Press.] HEADQUARTERS ARMY POTOMAC, April 17. Quite an interesting event took place at headquarters this morning. The 6th corps having taken eighteen flags during the recent short campaign, it was arranged that the men who captured them, accompanied by the commands, should march to the vicinity of Genera Meade's headquarters, and there turn in the colors taken from the rebels.

Gen. Meade addressed these heroes in an appropriate speech, thanking them individ-ually for their gallantry, and the entire corps for the important part they had performed in being the first regiment to break the enemy's line at Petersburg, as well as their conduct in pursuing and aiding in the utter defeat and capture of the most important army of the In conclusion General Meade announced that every man who had taken a flag should have a furlough for 30 days and that each man should carry his own and present it to the War Department at Washington.

The scene was a brilliant one and was much njoyed by all who witnessed it.

The announcement of the assassination of Mr. Lincoln and Messrs. Seward was received throughout this army with the greatest sorrow, and every man seeming to think it the greatest calamity that could possibly have happened just at this time.

Should the assassins be found and turned over to the army to be dealt with, their punishment would be swift and sure, and such as to strike terror into the hearts of every sym. pathizer with treason in the United States, and the citizens living through the country express their deep regret at the occurrence, thinking it the worst thing that could possibly have taken place just at this time, for the Southern people. The greater portion of this army is now concentrated at Burkesville Junction, taking a short rest after their late hard work; but it is thought that a movement of the main body of the troops will be made toward Petersburg and Richmond. The cavalry, as well as the colored division of the 25th corps, have already gone in that direction. In fact such a change will have to be made in a few days, as the capabilities of the Southside, in its present condition, are entirely inadequate to supply so many troops with rations and the animals with forage. The latter have suffered much the past week, large numbers having been abandoned on account of not being able to feed

ARRIVAL OF PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S REMAINS AT BALTIMORE. Business Suspended, Bells Tolled and Minute Guns Fired. BALTIMORE, April 21 .- The body of President Lincoln arrived at 10 o'clock. The procession is now moving. The display is very fine. There is an immense turn out of the citizens. There is a very large escort of artillery, cavalry, marines and sailors. The stores are all closed, and the whole population are on the streets. Bells are tolling and minute guns firing.

The weather is unpleasant, a fine mist prevailing. The lowering sky adds to the sadness which is depicted in every one's counte-The buildings are everywhere draped with the emblems of grief.

The body is to lay in state until two o'clock, in the rotunda of the Exchange, beneath the splendid dome. The interior is elegantly draped. A very elegant catafalque has been erected, of rich materials. The body rests upon a dais strewn with white flowers.

The canopy is adorned with a large star, formed of thirty-six small stars. In the civic procession appears all the clergy of the city, walking. The rear is made up of a large turnout of the colored people.

LOCAL NEWS.

AT A MEETING of loyal citizens and residents of Washington, held on Thursday evening. April 20th, instant, the following resolutions were passed unanimously, to wit: Whereas, in the selection of citizens to act as Marshals at the funeral procession of our late honored and beloved President, many were selected who have never been in sympathy with the Administration; who have not given aid, counsel or encouragement to the great cause of the Union, or whose secret sympathies were understood to be with the infamous rebellion, the prime moving cause of the assassination of our President; and whereas it was stated by competent authority, that Marshal Lamon was not in this city at the time that list was prepared and published: Therefore-Resolved, That we consider the act above referred to an outrage and insult to the Union people of the District, and to the loyal sojourners in this city, who had the sad privilege of participating in the funeral ceremonies. Resolved, That a committee of mine be appointed to wait on the Marshal of the District of Columbia, and respectfully and earnestly request the removal of the officer or officers who made the obnoxious selections. In accordance with those resolutions, the fol lowing committee was appointed, to wit: John Wilson, Chairman; John R. Elvans, Rev. John Dudley, Col. C. P. Field, Charles King, Col. F. A. Willet, Rev. John Trimble, Captain Levi Beardsley, and F. A. Boswell. The committee thus appointed went to the Marshal's office at 10 o'clock, Friday morning, and finding that Marshal Lamon was absent, attending the remains of our late beloved President, called on Deputy Marshal Phillips, and communicated to him the fact of the meeting, the appointment of the committee and the substance of the above resolutions.

Deputy Marshal Phillips expressed the deepest regret that the obnoxious appointments had been made; stated that the selections had to be made in a hurry; that the principal object sought was to obtain men who understood the marshaling of carriages and manage. ment of horses, keeping in view the ability of the persons selected to procure horses for the occasion; that the selections were made in the presence of several gentlemen, and every name stricken off against which the slightest suggestion or objection was made; that after the list was published a citizen called on him and objected to some of the names, when they were at once stricken out and others substituted, suggested by that citizen, and corrected lists published.

He stated, further, that Marshal Lamon knew nothing of the matter till after the amended list had been published, and was in no man-ner, shape or form responsible for the matter; but that he, Phillips, had made a serious blun-der, and would freely offer every atonement in his power by at once tendering his resigna-tion, to take effect on the return of Marshal Lamon, which he did.

The committee state that they are perfectly satisfied of the truthfulness of Deputy Marshal Phillips' statement, and of his deep regret at the occurrence, and that he could do no nore in the way of atonement than he has done—by resigning.

As justice has been fully satisfied, the committee earnestly deprecate any further excitement on the subject; and, by authority, countermand the netice heretofore given of a public meeting to be held in front of the Patent Office, on Saturday evening at 7% o'clock, p. m.; and that meeting will not be held.

And the committee further implore every good citizen, by every means in his power, to allay the excitement on this subject now agitating the public mind, as nothing but evil can now grow out of the continuance of this excita-
